The author of the manifest Christchurch also published it on the 8Chan marginal message board. Many of the 8Chan members celebrated the attack and praised the manifest references to niche memes and jokes. a professor of criminology at the University of Murdoch in Perth. These points of view have infiltrated the political current, echoed and amplified by public figures such as Australian Senator Fraser Anning, which last year invoked the term "final solution" in a call to restrict Muslim immigration from Muslim immigration. .Briskey said that such messages "give permission to people who may be attracted to this narrative to undertake more acts of vilipendium against Muslims, and in extreme, with violence." The manifesto published before the New Zealand attack referred to victims of a terrorist attack in Stockholm and Racial Tensions in the Balkans. The author says that he was inspired by the shooter of the church of Charleston Dylann Roof, as well as Anders Behring Breivik, the right-wing FA Terrorist who killed 77 people in Norway in 2011. He said that his objective was to provoke civil war in the United States along divisions related to the rights and race of arms. As a symbol of white identity, but he adds that Trump does not like as a policymaker and leader. Camera, live broadcasting the 17-minute incident to Facebook.
